Teaching letters in the right order

Name _____

LetterSchool worksheet pack · free to print and share

Teaching letters from A to Z means jumping from easy to hard and back. Handwriting programs teach letters in families instead: letters that start with the same movement are learned together, so one movement unlocks several letters.

How to use this pack

1. Week 1: capitals: Straight line capitals, then slanted and curved capitals.
2. Week 2: first lowercase families: Straight line letters, then the six magic c letters.
3. Week 3: down, up and over: r, n, m, h, b and p all go down, back up the same line and over.
4. Week 4: slants and the rest: Slant letters and the letters that start in their own way.
